

Angela Scott

With over 8 years' experience leading high-performing and diverse teams, Angela uses clear and focused communication to lead groups through complexity to a point of making - and acting on - decisions to move forward. She'll share her top tips on making your presentation memorable for the right reasons, and building momentum that continues after you've left the room.